

#40days40ways

A summer of fun and fundraising! 4th June - 13th July 2017

Although Scottish Attachment in Action is a registered charity, we do not currently receive any grants or government funding. Our finances come from membership fees and any other fundraising activities we can undertake to extend our network Scotland-wide and secure our organization into the future. This summer, we appeal to your sense of adventure and philanthropy, and have come up with forty FUN ways to fundraise. We would love for you to get involved, inform or invite us to your events, and join us in sharing your #40days40ways and spread the message #whyattachmentmatters. Please contact us if you are able to do any fundraising activities and we can support you in providing further information or support you may need.
